St John the Baptist Parish Finance Vision and Mission

St John the Baptist Parish Finance Council is creating an environment and culture that supports all parishioners in the mission of Jesus Christ to celebrate our faith, proclaim the Gospel, build community, and serve our needy.

Using our three-year plan, we aim to witness God's love through worship and service and return to God the gifts we have received from his bounty. We plan to do this through:

- The bulletin sponsorship program which allows members of our community to highlight the goods and services they offer through the means of our bulletin.
- By encouraging consistent donations through the methods of envelope offerings and Automatic Fund Transfers. This aids the Finance Council to better budget for the upcoming year. We also offer E-transfer as another means of sharing your gifts with your Parish Family.
- By urging all our Parish Family to receive envelopes to provide consistent and regular donations to our Parish.

By welcoming any planned gifts and beguests to our Parish.

Recognizing that everything we have comes from our Father and sharing those God given gifts with our Parish Home will bring multiple blessings to us and our families.

Christmas 2019

A few days ago, at the beginning of December, Pope Francis travelled to Greccio, half way between Rome and Assisi, to the shrine of the nativity, the place where back in 1223, Saint Francis invited locals to help recreate the setting of the birth of Jesus: a manger, an ox, a donkey. Saint Francis's biographer writes that all those present were filled with an "indescribable joy."

Now 800 years later, Pope Francis has offered a meditation on nativity scenes, speaking of them as being "a living Gospel" that draws us into the mystery of the Incarnation - God born in human flesh, coming to dwell with us. Setting up a Christmas crèche helps us to imagine the scene. From the manger, God, eternal one, enters into the poverty of our human lives, the brokenness of our world, launching what the Pope refers to as a "revolution of tenderness." The source from which all life comes, became life. As the letter of John relates, in Jesus, this life was revealed, this life appeared (cf. 1 Jn 1:2).

Christ comes quietly into our noisy world.

Mary is there in the nativity scene, the mother "who contemplates her child and shows him to every visitor;" Joseph too, the guardian who protects his family as he ponders the mystery; also the cast of characters found in most every crèche - the angels heralding good news, the shepherds who are privileged witnesses, the sheep, the donkey; eventually too the magi, who teach us that people "come to Christ by a very long route."

Pope Francis goes on to note that children, and adults too, love to add other figures to the nativity scene - each bringing their lives, bearing their burdens, carrying their treasures - poor though they be. Each, he says, "show that in the new world inaugurated by Jesus there is room for whatever is truly human, and for all God's creatures." "They too have every right to draw near to the Infant Jesus: no one can evict them or send them away..."

Into this quiet place, before the Christ child, we too are invited to come: to learn to walk with each other in our woundedness; to learn to be vulnerable, and to show tenderness; to let ourselves be made small so that we can reflect a little of the light that comes when God embraces powerlessness. And in that quiet place we hear God say: I am with you. To stay. It is your world I have come to dwell in. Your broken heart and wounded soul I have taken for my home. My love will light the darkness. So, friends, light the candles, and open your hearts. It is Christmas.

Come, let us adore him, Christ the Lord! Merry Christmas, everyone!
